

PESSO BOYDEN SYSTEM PSYCHOMOTOR

Pesso Boyden System Psychomotor (PBSP) is a multidimensional form of psychotherapy and emotional re-education with unique verbal and non-verbal techniques. PBSP presents a comprehensive viewpoint on developmental requirements necessary for successful maturation as well as innovative techniques that provide clients with symbolic satisfaction of those basic needs. Training in PBSP will significantly increase your productivity with powerful theoretical and practical tools that will, in turn, enhance your professional skills. You will be able to gain observation and tracking techniques that will lead to greater client consciousness of own present state in the immediate present, interventions using role-played historical figures to illuminate and externalize vivid, powerful memories, and interventions using role-played ideal figures to offset dysfunctional behaviors caused by historical deficits. This seminar is a wonderful developmental opportunity for mental health professionals who want to gain a greater understanding of the intricate body-mind connection.
